

Breakthrough is a single player card game.

The Objective

- The aim of the game is to open as many locks as possible during the game, using the appropriate tools.

Key Concepts

- There are three types of tools – Keys, Picks and Files.
  - Each of these tools has a grade – Acute, Basic or Crude.
  - Together, these shorten to two letter codes – for example, a crude key would be CK.
- There are eight locks.
  - Each of these locks has one to three challenges,
  - The parts of the challenge are unlocked (solved) by playing the matching tool card.
  - The challenges can be completed in any order, BUT parts of the challenges must be completed in the specified order.

Starting the game

- The player starts the game by shuffling all the tools, as well as five 'difficulty' cards, to form a draw deck face down.
- The player next shuffles the locks, placing them face down to make a lock pile.
- Start by taking the first lock from the top of the lock pile and place it on the table in front of you.
- Then the player draws five cards from the draw deck

Gameplay

- On each turn, the player must either play a card onto their sequence, attempting to match the challenges sequence, or discard a card, before redrawing up to five.
- If a card not matching the current sequence (including from a different challenge) is played, the sequence is reset and must be restarted.
- The same tool type (pick, file or key) cannot be played consecutively. If the two sequences on a lock card start and end with the same tool type (e.g. AF, AP, AF and CF, CP, CF) then another card must be played in-between which is of a different tool type, even though it doesn't correspond to any sequence.
- Difficulty cards represent problems – for example, breaking a pick.
  - Upon drawing a difficulty card, the player must either discard a key from their hand or discard the top five cards of the deck. (If the player has no keys, they must discard the top five cards of the deck).
- If the player matches the sequence for a challenge, the challenge is met.
- If the player meets all the challenges on the card, the lock has been opened.
  - On the opening of a lock, all discarded cards are shuffled back into the deck, and a new lock is selected.
  - 'Used' tools – i.e. the ones that have been played, remain in the sequence and are not shuffled back into the deck.

Finishing the game

- The game continues until the deck is empty, and the player cannot fill back up to five cards in their hand.

Scoring

- Each pick card that is played scores 1 point (whether place in a matching sequence or not)
- Each file card that is played scores 2 points (whether place in a matching sequence or not)
- Each key card that is played scores 3 points (whether place in a matching sequence or not)
- Each challenge that is met scores an additional 5 points
- Each lock that is unlocked scores an additional 10 points
